Halloween Features Add Spice to Dance

The Hawklets took a seven-game winning streak into the Homecoming game against the Columbia Hickman Kewpies. They faced a genuine monster waiting to devour them, as the Kewpies shut off the Hawklets completely to win convincingly, 30-6. Costly mistakes hurt the Hawklets in turn-overs on both sides of the field. Mickey Miller saved the favored Hawklets from an embarassing shutout by running 75 yards for a touchdown on a kickoff return. However, the final score weakened the Hawklet's march for district playoffs a bit.

On Saturday, Nov. 1, the Homecoming dance took a slight letdown from the game the night before. Students in un-Rockhurst tuxedos escorted dates to the dance and danced to the rock sounds of the band "Ossian" for three hours. Three hundred couples attended the dance in the gym. For couples who wanted to cool their heels after a workout on the dance floor there were other diversions to look into. Horror movies and cartoons were shown in the senior lounge. A palm reader was on "hand" to foretell for interested couples far-reaching events into the night.

The Light and Sound Crew. led by Mr. Harold Petersen and seniors Ken Behrmann and Steve Doeri, created outstanding light decorations and sound system. Senior Mike Schwenk, sophomore Erik Juergensen and some St. Teresa's Academy helpers painted the Halloween posters that adorned the gym walls.

Homecoming Week Peaks with Parade

The Rockhurst Student Council chose "Halloween" as the theme for the 1980 Homecoming parade and dance. The class representatives and class committees chose individual class themes. The parade is usually the highlight of the week, so students in each class concentrated on the floats.

The seniors, ranking second in competition, tried to "wrap up the Kewpies" and the float contest with their Egyptian mummy. The juniors, who took third place, focused on the "Spirit behind the Hawklets" and showed the team being led on by the ghosts of former Rockhurst football stars.

The sophomores, whose float won first place, recreated the "Legend of Dasta Hollow," where they depicted a Kewpie running to save his neck. The freshmen, who finished fourth in the float competition with the "Fall of the House of Kewpies," built a house which actually did start to fall during the parade.

After a cold week, the temperature rose sharply to privide a perfect climate for the parade. Unfortunately, the Rockhurst team didn't get hot enough to win over the strong Columbia Hickman team.

Door Opens to '84

The Freshmen Welcome Week for the Class of 1984 took place Sept. 2-5. Seniors were asked to make an all-out effort to welcome the new arrivals and make them feel a part of the Rockhurst tradition. The class of 1981 did an excellent job making the freshmen comfortable about the school and dispelling their fears.

The week had a special event occurring each day. On Tuesday night, a picnic supper and rec-night was held for "little brother" freshmen and "big brother" seniors. Wednesday was "Western Wear Day," as the halls filled with aspiring urban cowboys in boots, checkered shirts and ten-gallon hats. On Thursday, Activities Day, little brothers teamed up with their big brothers in competition against each other in such Olympic-style struggles as pie-eating contests and egg- and frisbee-throws. On Friday, big brothers used their driving expertise to transport little brothers to the opening football game at Raytown.

Overall, the week was successful and fun. In fact, the freshmen eagerly await the class of 1987, when they will share their years here with their little brothers.

Rebels Put on Good Performance

The Cuesters' production of Rebel Without A Cause brought together the talents of actors and stage and light crews to present a fine production of a classic story of adolescent struggle for identity. Unable to find love and understanding from their parents, the teenagers band together. Their parents build tensions into something from which escape is impossible and death the only solution.

Actors Brian VanBuskirk, Tim Johnson, and Buffy Johnson portrayed the characters Buzz Anderson, Jim Hanley, and Judy Brown. Director Mr. Stark and the rest of the uesters spent long hours developing a fine production in the tradition of the drama department.

School, City, and Country Rocks with Events

The country saw a new change in philosophy and politics when Ronald Reagon rode a wave of national conservatism into the Presidency in November. The incumbent President Carter made a much-publicized appearence at Truman High School in October to drum up support from the Midwest in a losing cause. Mount Saint Helen's explosion in May seemed to characterize America's rage towards the continued Iranian Hostage crisis; meanwhile, Americans experienced joy when the American hockey team defeated the heavily favored Russian team at the Winter Olympics in February.

There were notable events closer to home. The Kansas City Royals destroyed their American League nemesis, the New York Yankees, to win the pennant and go to their first World Series ever. However, the Philadelphia Phillies stopped the team in six games. Our own football Hawklets made the playoffs for the first time in three years and stopped the state's top-ranked team, the Raytown Bluejays. A sophomore, John Travers, gained local notoriety on "PM Magazine" for his weather forecast predictions. Bruce Springsteen, rock's proclaimed "boss" made a heralded appearance at Kemper Arena in March,

Program Expands

The 1980-81 pastoral program saw a major change when the program's retreats were scheduled from weekends to weekdays. This change enabled more students to participate fully in retreats without compromising weekend activities. Mr. Ruby became assistant director of the expanded program to handle the new retreat schedule.

Seniors were offered monthly retreat options at either Conception, Mo. or Saviour of the World in Kansas. A new site at Nevada was also used. The retreats, which focused on friendship, death, and family, involved students in discussion in a peaceful atmosphere without pressure from homework assignments. The juniors held their retreats at Saviour and Nevada. Sophomores held Days of Recollection at school in March. The freshman retreats were canceled because of conflicting schedules. Substitute activities were organized in lieu of freshman retreats.

Special Events Enliven School Year

Many events took place during the year that weren't covered by the yearbook due to their size or significance. However, others occurred that deserved more than passing attention. The Bloodmobile collected precious blood from volunteer students and faculty members in November; the annual Rockhurst Speech and Debate Tournament attracted twenty-three schools from several states in October; Father Heinz took his final vows in December. Mr. McWilliams began a new program to introduce cultural events to the school, including a demonstration by two karate experts following the November honors assembly and a performance by a professional juggler in the January honors assembly.

The annual Rockhurst Sale-O-Rama in February was given some new twists this year that made it not only the most successful yet, but one of the most memorable. The Rockhurst fathers instigated a mock battle of sexes by challenging the mothers to gross $81,000 from Sale-O. Despite a crippling blizzard that threatened the area and closed the school a day boost by providing a sunny day when opening night came. The result was a gross of $82,000.

Among the most interesting items up for sale were a $700 linen press, an autographed Ellery Queen mystery, and a 1782 Daniel Defoe novel. Once again, Sale-O brought some lift to the dismal months of winter and helped keep tuition at a reasonable level.

The Alumni-Parents Club contributed to the continual success of events like CACHE and Sale-O. The Father's Club sponsored CACHE in May to counter the Mother's Club's phenomenal success. The parents not only decreased their tuition costs but had a good time, too.

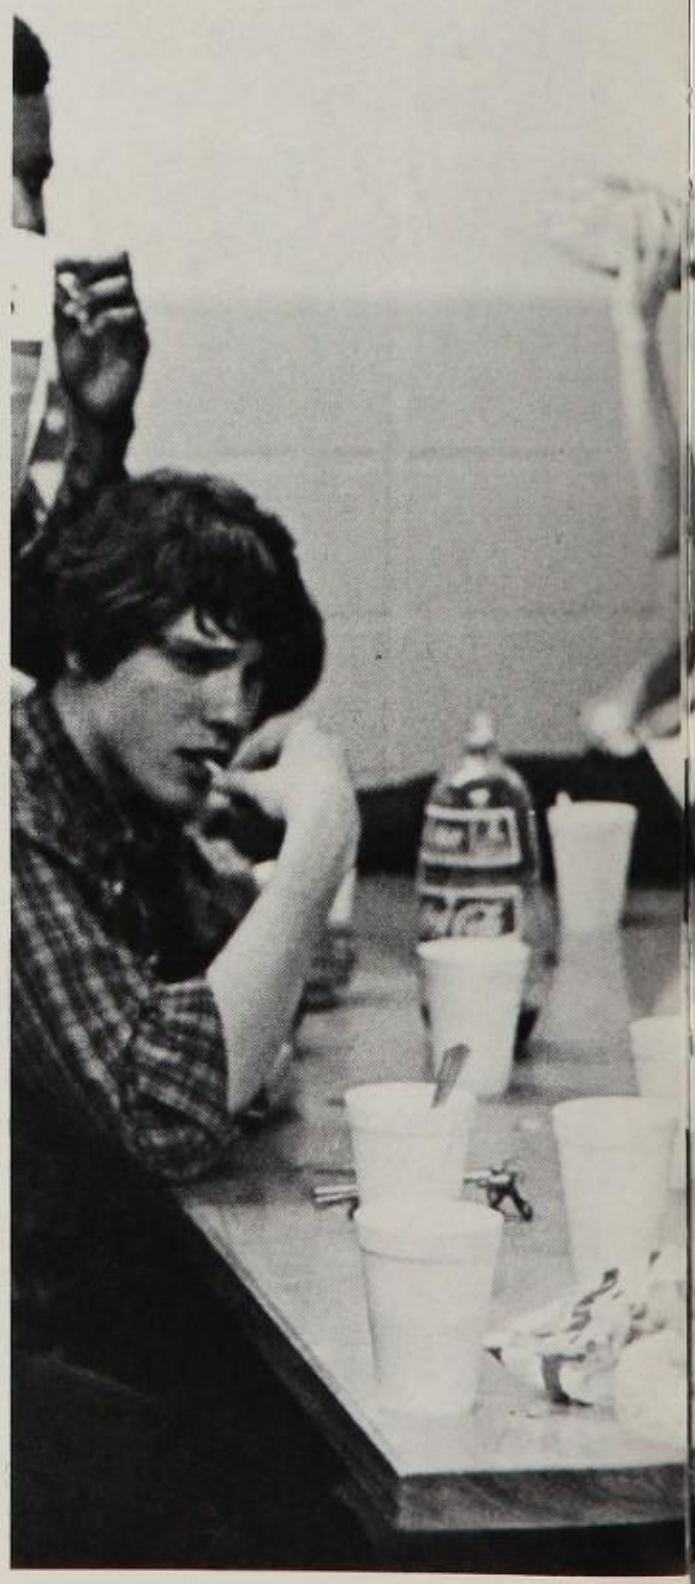
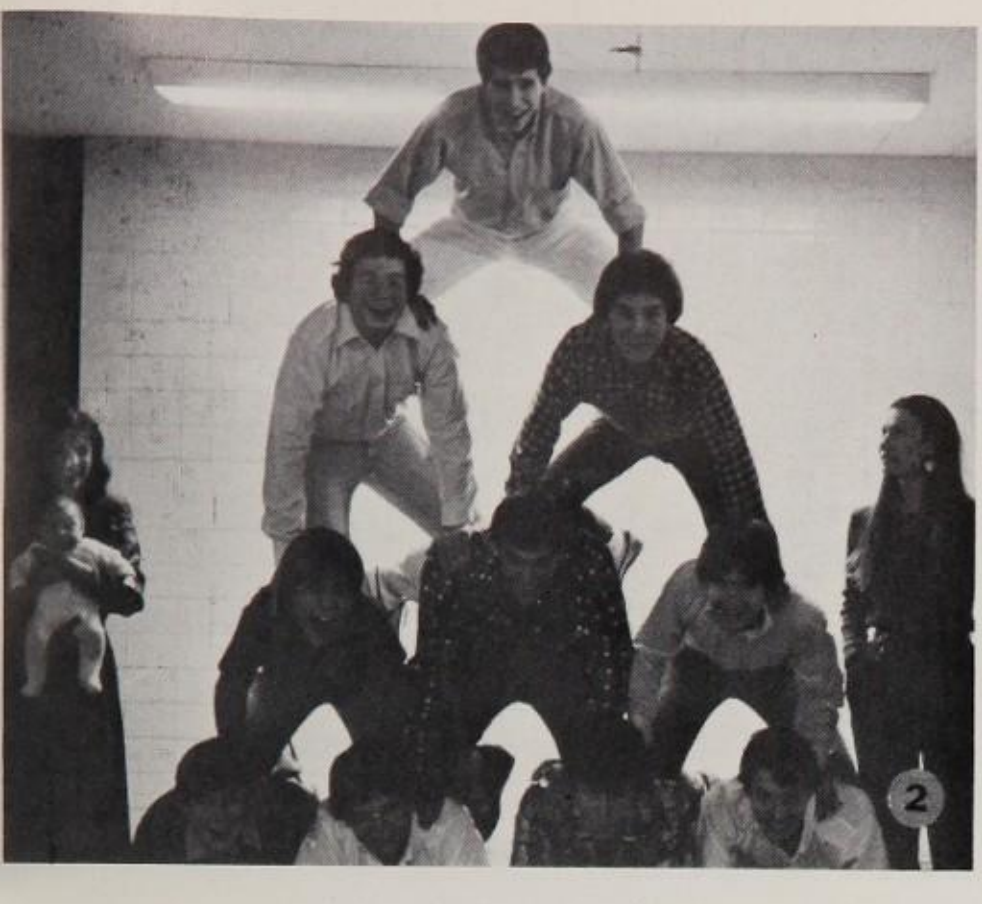
Talent Abounds

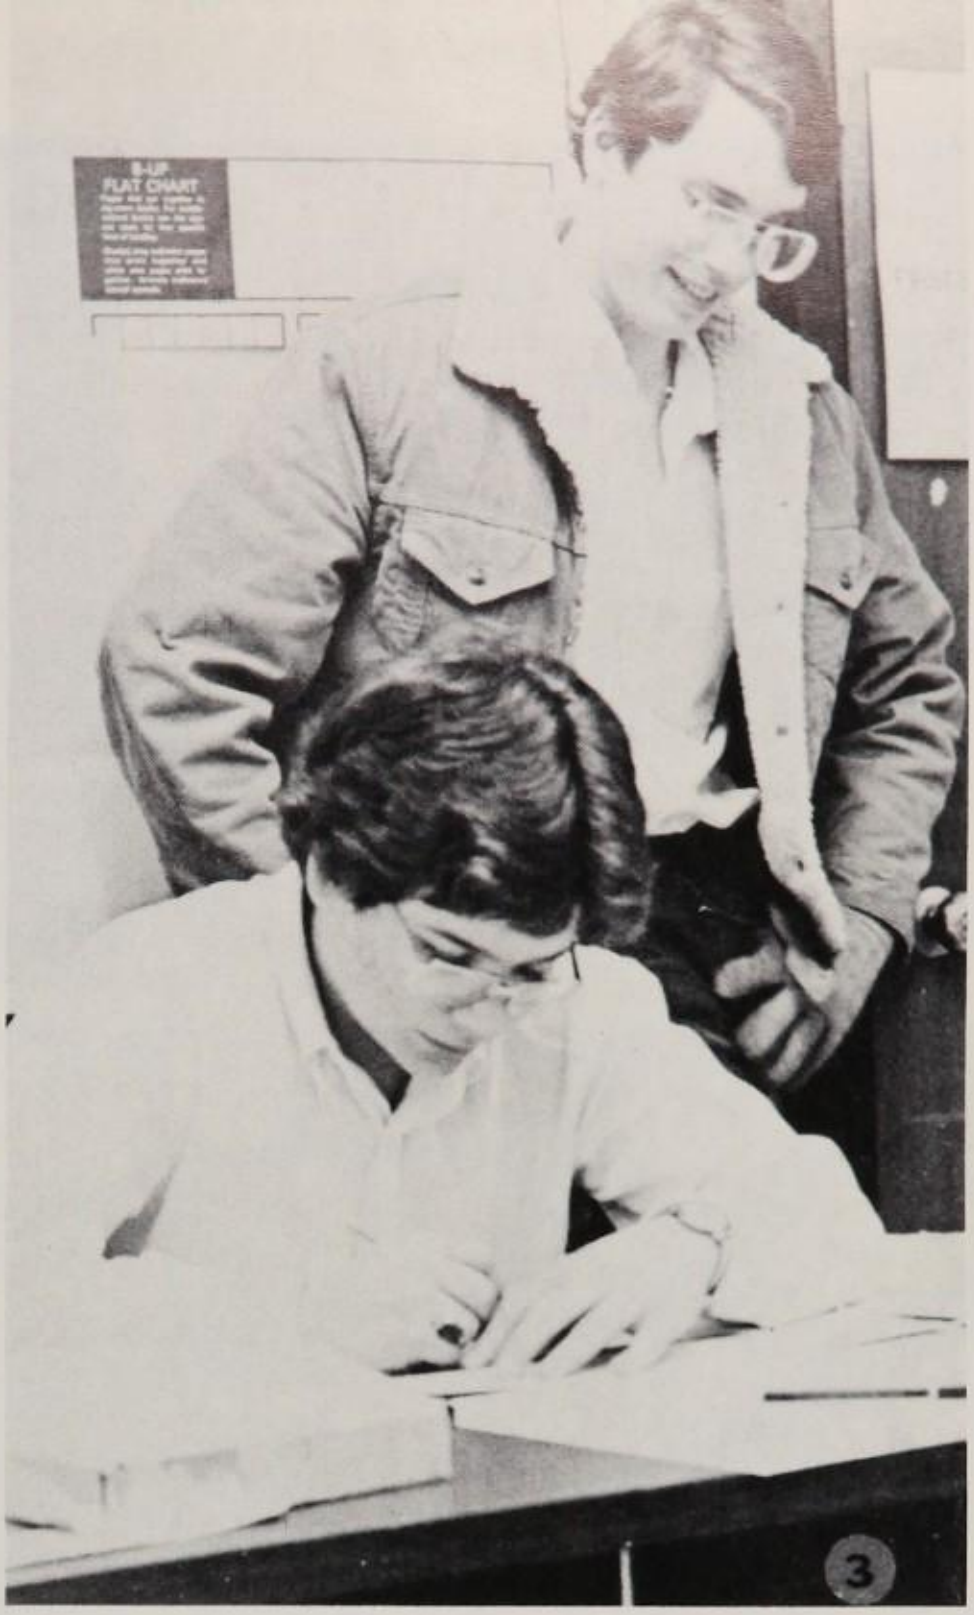
The Quarry staff excelled in both personality and talent. Its leader, Tom Schroer, donated his ideas and comments freely in his own forceful way. Mike Dolson, Sports editor, managed to do all he could and then some.

Organizations saw a new addition in the personage of Chris Ottinger, who worked with veteran Tim Thomure faithfully to complete the yearbook section which covered the school's clubs. Chris also took many pictures for the yearbook and helped caption many of those appearing in the book.

Jim FitzGerald was the "good ole boy" who handled the activities and junior class sections. Then there was Joe O'Flaherty; staff members couldn't agree about exactly what Joe did, but the staff agrees he was an asset.







Much praise should go to the devoted underclassmen, namely, Jimmy Taylor, editor of the Freshman section, Eric Schudy, Sophomore section editor, and Bud Freeman, who printed pictures whenever they were needed.

Rookie Staffers Make Good

This year's Prep News staff consisted primarily of members who had only one year's experience. The new editor, Chris Kenny, guided the infant "Prepers" through the hardships of the newspaper world. Another important senior staff member, the controversial Mike D'Agostino, displayed his talents through his genuine concern for details. Sports editor, David Paul, not only provided comic relief for the entire crew but also wrote many articles, as well. And last but not least Joe Brenneman provided a distinct contrast to the rest of the staff. Joe was successful in the procurement of advertisements for the paper. Finally, Mr. Heiman as moderator kept a watchful eye over the budding papermen.

Chris Kenny organized the staff's assignments. Meanwhile, Mike D'Agostino remained aloof from his class members, commenting from a distance, while David Paul showed up at each sports event with pen in hand. Joe Brenneman frenetically moved among all the senior staffers, finding things to do and undo, while Mr. Heiman kept them together working as a team.

Success Mirrors Student Council

Student Council set a firm foundation for success by meeting weekly throughout the summer. This advanced preparedness reflected many succesful projects: Freshman Welcome Week, a magazine sales drive that netted $4000 for the Council treasury, a "Halloween" Homecoming, a blood drive for the Community Blood Bank, "Project: Santa Claus" through which the Council played Santa to at least 250 students and faculty, a canned food drive for the Dunbar area of Kansas City, Mission: Possible Week, and other individual class activities.

During the summer President Greg Reintjes and Vice President Jim FitzGerald attended a student leaders workshop at Camp Cheley, Colorado; and Mrs. Carol Jean DeFeo, the new advisor, attended a seminar sponsored by the National Association of Secondary School Principals for Student Activity Coordinators.

At an August meeting the Council set goals for the year and those goals grew to fruition throughout the year. Under the first semester leadership of senior Jim Wolf the Freshman Class developed a strong base of spirit to carry them through the year. For the first time in years primary elections were held in all officer positions as a total of 35 students applied for Council offices second semester. The second semester officers continued the fast pace set earlier in the year and proved instrumental in organizing Mission: Possible Week, the student work force for Sale-O-Rama and Carnival, and class activities. Such traditional activities as the "Spirit Contest" and rec-nights were typically well done. Council also financially backed a Freshman drama production and organized the advanced ticket sales for the Spring musical.

Throughout the year the Council planned, organized, and carried out non-academic events important to the spirit and well-being of the entire Student Body.

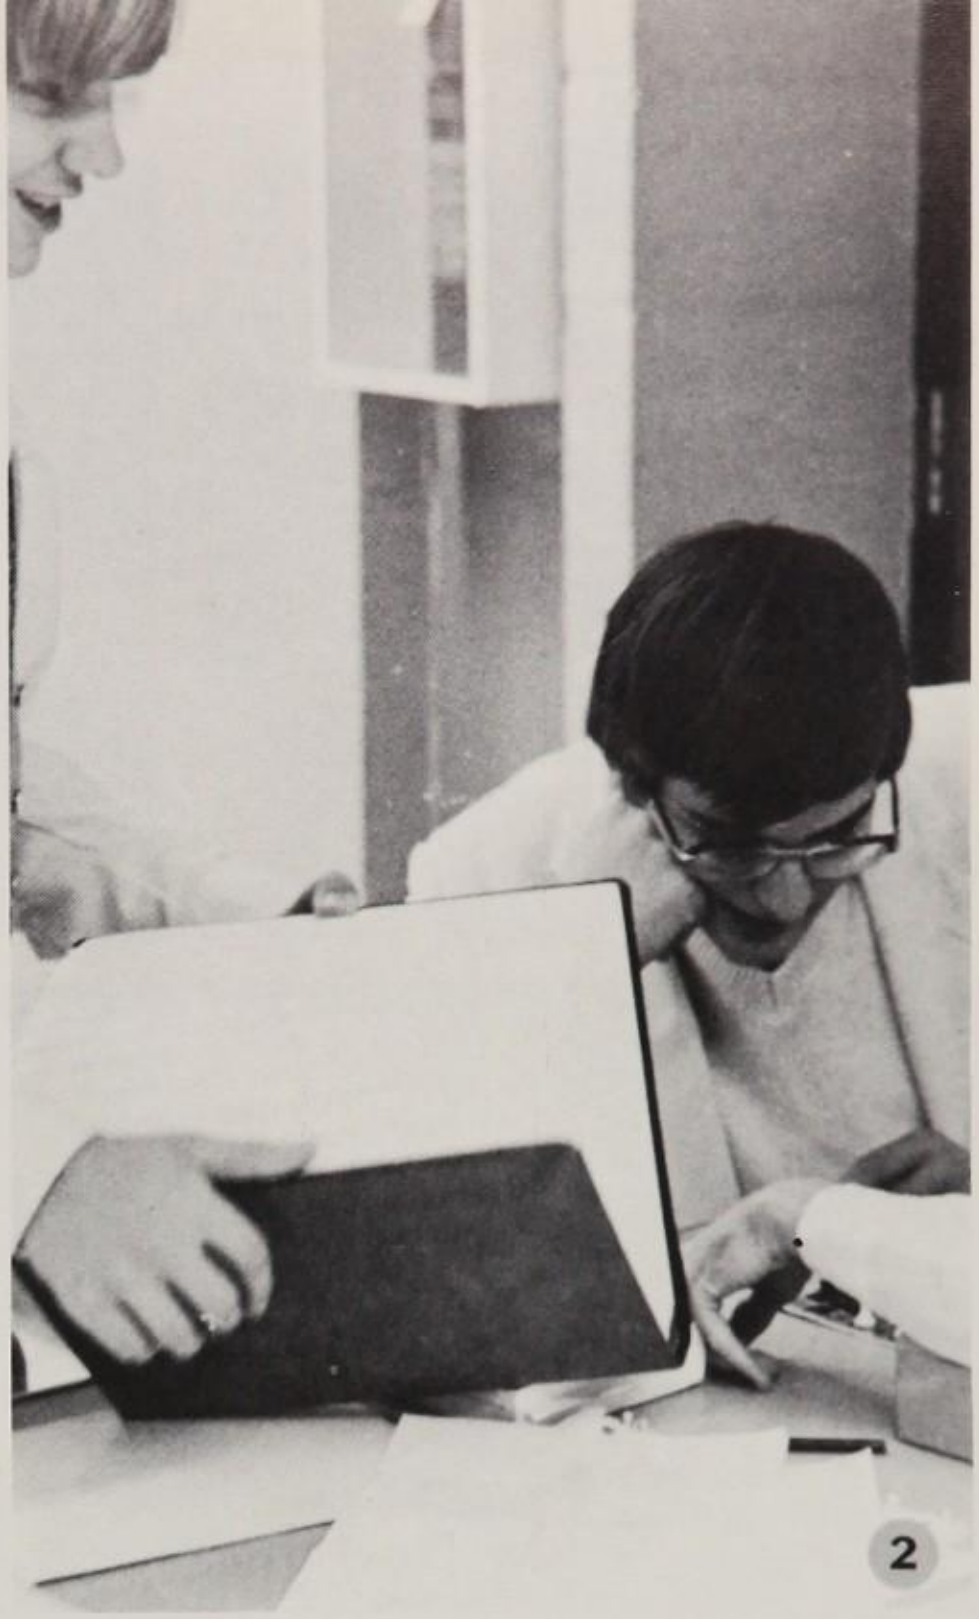
6) "Why yes, I always go to school like this."



The debate team of 1980-81 maintained its tradition of success, as its record demonstrates.

Senior Mike Woods was again outstanding in joth extemporaneous speaking and debate. In first-semester competition, Woods won three first-place trophies in extemp, including victories at St. Louis' Chaminade, North Kansas City, and Center. The Varsity debate team of Seniors Mike Woods—Eric Hoffman claimed the first-place debate title at Chaminade. These results are not at all surprising, given the proven quality of the members of NFL coach Don Ramsey's squad.

Underclassmen also proved to be of vital importance to the team record. Sophomore Mark Shelton in his first year of competition was outstanding in all areas. He took first place at Kickapoo in "The Lincoln-Douglas Debate" and second place in extemp at Fort Osage. The debate team of Sophomores Mark Shelton—Eric Juergensen and Gregg Katy—Jerry King, all in their first year as debaters, also proved their skill. Shelton—Juergensen took first at Fort Osage, and Kath—King won first at Center.

The Sophomores, led by Shelton, should make the 1981-82 season as successful as this year's.

Choir Hangs in There

The Rockhurst choir once again contributed their vocal talents at the all-school masses during the year, as well as the Thursday Morning masses.

Under the direction of Mr. Tim Godfrey, the choir also sang at the many other events, including the celebration where Mr. Heinz took his final vows, as well as singing for the shut-ins earlier in the year.

The choir members came and went during most of the year, but the members who "hung in there" included seniors Dave Muma, Greg Harkness, Kevin Shehan, Greg Reintjes, Kevin Connor, Tom Schroer, John Decker, and Paul Janstch; juniors Matt Wurster and Tim Thomure; and sophomores Mark Shelton and Brian Whittaker.

Easy Riders

The Bicycle Club is an informal group who ride throughout Kansas City.

The Club was begun this year by Mr. Joe Venker, S. J., a new face to Rockhurst High School and an avid bicyclist.

Anyone who wants to can ride, but the core group consists of Freshman Roban Bieber, John Weidmaier, and Tom Murphy; Sophomore Ken Pierce; Junior John Sigg; and Seniors Marc Hare and Brian Kelly.

The main type of riding club members participate in is touring, although some members do race.

The club members have taken overnight bike trips to Pomona Lake and Clinton Lake. After 500 miles, the member receives a free T-shirt. On completion of 1000 miles, he receives a free riding helmet.

L&S Sounds Off

With Mr. Harold Petersen as moderator, the Light and Sound Crew began the year with the following core members: Seniors Steve Dorei, Ken Behrmann, Joe Kieskowski, and John Carbrini; Juniors Jim Bradley ane Sean Maschler; and Sophomore Paul Bradley. New members included Kevin Stroder and Mike Naime.

The Light and Sound Crew prepared lighting and sound for various school events, including the masses, assemblies, Pep rallies, Sale-O-Rama, Cache, and the Carnival. The crew also provided lighting for mixers and the Homecoming Dance and prepared the school's scoreboard for the football games.

Chess Club Returns

The Chess Club again became one of Rockhurst's after-school activities after a years absence. With a new coach Mr. John Henggeler, and new members, the club offered an opportunity for students interested in chess to match wits with each other daily in the library.

In December, the club competed in a Chess tournament at Shawnee Mission West with thirteen other schools. While the overall team results netted a very respectable sixth-place finish, Sophomore Thomas McKibben won a first place trophy for baeting all of his opponants on the fifth board. Because the club is working towards holding it's own Chess tournament in the future, chess won't be forgotten at Rockhurst for awhile.

The 1980-81 Cheerleaders helped create enthusiasm and ignite the crowds, cheering the Hawklets on to victory at the many events during the course of the year. Led by moderator Mike Edler, the cheerleaders' main goals were to increase attendance at the pep-rallies and to increase the Rockhurst spirit among the student body.

There were certain changes during the year, such as the singing of the Star-Spangled Banner in four-part haromny and new uniforms which gave the cheerleaders a mark of distinction.

To become a cheerleader, a student must show that he can do a cheer by himself, do a tumbling run, and form a group pyramid.

The 1980-81 cheerleaders included seniors Greg Reintjes, Kevin Connor, Gib Kerr, Craig Brady, Paul Janstch, Jim Russell, Mike Healy, Frank DeLuna, John Sokoloff, and Fred Mahler; junior John Grier; and freshman Frank Schudy. The Alternates were Chris Schudy, Brennen Connor, and Joe Kelly.

The cheerleaders combined talent and various cheers to bring Rockhurst crowds together during the year.

Major Movements in Administration

With the departure of Father Paul Pilgram, S.J., for a teaching position at Regis High School in Denver, Mr. J. Michael McWilliams, formerly Asst. Principal for Academics, was appointed principal. Mr. McWilliams is the first lay principal. Mr. Edward Carlin was appointed to Mr. McWilliams' position. Mr. Carlin was Asst. Principal for Student Welfare last year. During the summer, a faculty committee interviewed twenty-five applicants for Mr. Carlin's position. Mr. Stanley Herbic, business teacher and an athletic coach from Bishop Ward, was selected for the vice-principal position.

Along with these administrative changes, several plans were implemented by the new Administration to inspire the smooth functioning of the school. After studying the school's curriculum needs, Mr. McWilliams promised to look into expanding the fine arts and business/economics programs. Mr. Carlin offered a proposal that would allow students to arrange their own schedules. Mr. Herbic defined his goals at Rockhurst in terms of reaching out for the "invisible student" to actively participate in the school functions by enlarging the student activities program.

The school secretaries contributed to the implementation of all the changes outlined by the administrators. Mrs. Bernice Wood, Mrs. Mary Jane Layne, and Mrs. Carolyn Smith all contributed to necessary administrative services. Meanwhile, Mrs. Jean Maher controlled the busy flow of business that streamed in and out of the President's office.

Staff Keeps Pace With Change

In keeping with the recent changes throughout the school this year, the cafeteria underwent rennovation of its facilities. The cafeteria was remodeled over the summer after criticism about the inefficiency of its two serving lines. The facility was redesigned on the model of a fast-food resturaunt service. Four serving areas were established to fill students' orders for the regular fare, with a fifth set aside for serving those students who brought their own lunch but wanted soft drinks or potato chips.

Ms. Phyllis Church, the new cafeteria manager, said that the new service would be successful once the students familiarized themselves with its operation. Helping Ms. Church reach that goal were staff members Mrs. Estoria Polk, Mr. Gene Pue, Mrs. Anne Van Dyke, Mrs. Theresa Becker, and Bro. Don Schlichter, S.J. Fr. William Steiner, S.J., kept Rockhurst looking its best as the building's superintendant. Bro. Lawrence Eilert, S.J., kept the parking lots and football field cleared and kept the cars in the Jesuit residence running well.

New Look for Staff

The new librarian, Mr. William Deacon, worked out with other faculty members to develop new guidelines that called for students to sign up for library use during lunch and during Thursday Mass hour. Forty students were allowed to use the facility at one time. Mrs. Elizabeth Lippert served as Mr. Deacon's assistant and processed library materials for students to use on microfish readers and videotape machines.

In the comptroller's office, Bro. Harold Fleer, S. J., and a new addition, Fr. Joseph Bono, S. J., kept track of financial matters in the Rockhurst community. Mrs. Patricia Schudy was the public relations director for the school and Fr. Mario Puricelli, S. J., was head of alumni activities, which included the Alumni Directory, reunions, and donations from the former Rockhurst student body members.

Cross Country Improves

The Cross Country Team got off to an excellent start this season with impressive performances at the September 10 meet. With two returning lettermen, the Varsity took second place behind exceptional finishes by John Grier, the number one runner on the team, Ried Graham, and David Blickman. The Junior Varsity showed off its talent, placing first in the Sept. 10 meet. David Baughman took first, while Hawklet contenders grabbed the fourth through tenth at the Blue Valley meet. Mike Hennessey performed well for the Freshmen team.

The season proved to be an overall success for second-year coach, Mr. Bill Munninghoff, who organized the team's training schedule. Coach Munninghoff's teaching philosphy is well exemplified in his working out with the students who are out for the grueling running sport.

Hawklets Make Playoffs With 8-2 Season

With the loss of 26 seniors from last year's 8-1 squad, the 1980 Hawklets faced what looked like a year of rebuilding. A 17-6 loss to the number-one ranked area high school team, the Raytown Blue Jays, in the opening game of the season confirmed that the team might not be as successful as it had been in past years. However, two major factors greatly boosted the Hawklet's fortunes and enabled them to make the playoffs for the first time since 1976.

One was a ruling made by MSHSAA to extend the state high school playoff system by one week, thus doubling the number of the teams participating in post-season play. This ruling enabled the number of the teams with good seasons to qualify for the playoffs by adding four districts to the present four. The two top teams from each of the eight districts met in district playoffs and the eight winners went on to quarterfinals, semis and the final game which was played in St. Louis' Busch Stadium on Nov. 29.

Hawklets' Drive's Fierce

Because of this ruling, Rockhurst took its 8-2 record against Raytown, 10-0, into the District Seven playoff game. Rockhurst avenged the earlier loss by surprising the overconfident Blue Jays 24-7. However, the Dist. 8 champion, Raytown South, extinguished Hawklet dreams of St. Louis by beating them 14-0.

The second factor in the Hawklet playoff drive was a gutsy, determined squad that refused to quit. There was the strong offensive unit led by senior quarterback David Cone, which featured the running of junior tailback Tony Fritz, who rushed for 810 yards for the season and the Hawklets' All-Metro all-everything wingback Mickey Miller, who was all over the field, running the ball, catching passes, and making key interceptions on defense as cornerback. An equally impressive defense with All-Metro selections, senior David Alpough and junior Brad Tyrer at the line, contributed their skills in helping shut off offenses of such teams as the eventual Class 3A champions, O'Hara, and Raytown in the district playoffs.

J.V. Goes Undefeated

The Rockhurst Junior Varsity Football team rolled over all its opponents enroute to a 7-0 record. The team never let a team score more than one touchdown a game. The Junior Hawklets held Raytown, Shawnee Mission East and arch-rival Miege scoreless. Rockhurst impressed supporters with an opening victory against Raytown, 27-0. They then proceeded to down Shawnee Mission North 14-8 and Shawnee Mission West 28-8. The Hawklets destroyed Shawnee Mission East 46-0, and after a hard-fought game against Miege 7-0, they downed Grandview 23-6. The Junior Varsity finished the season by rolling over O'Hara 29-8. The success J.V. had this year should be demonstrated in the Varsity's performance in the future. The Varsity team can expect to inherit many outstanding players next year.

Frosh Romp; Sophs Improve

Although the sophomore football team finished with a disappointing record of 2-6, that record did not reflect the growth in skills that developed since late summer. Commenting on the season, Coach Steve Ryan observed, "The important thing was that we showed improvement in nearly every game."

Plagued by Rockhurst's traditional policy of moving outstanding sophomores to the J.V., the team dropped the first five games to Raytown, Shawnee Mission West, SME, Blue Springs, and Olathe.

The Sophs rebounded to defeat arch-rival Miege, 14-0, and St. Joe Central, 26-0.

The members of this year's team leave the feeling that their record does not reflect what was gained in the season or the ability that they have, and they are eagerly anticipating the beginning of next year's season to prove it.

The Freshmen football team turned in an impressive season record of 7-1. The team started the season by destroying Southwest, 40-0. The young Hawklets struggled to beat Pittman Hills 18-12, but then rolled over St. Puis X 46-0. The Freshmen buried Ward 41-0 before losing a hard-fought game to arch-rival Miege, 7-6. The Hawklets kept their remaining opponents, Southeast, O'Hara, and Blue Springs scoreless.

Soccer Team Wins District

The Hawklets claimed their best season ever this fall by winning their district and claiming eighth place in the state. The season included two journeys to St. Louis, one for the Parkway Invitational Tournament and the other for the State Championship Tournament.

The season began in the heat wave of August, when conditioning was supervised by Coach Ron Geldhof and J.V. Coach Chris Pinne. The varsity squad premiered by winning second place in the S.M. North Tournament and then marched to an impressive 14-8-2 record.

A milestone was achieved when Rockhurst won its first game in St. Louis by defeating Parkway West 2-1 in overtime during the Parkway Tournament. Two more close games followed, but the Hawklets fell short both times. The three teams Rockhurst faced in the tournament won the top three spots in the tournament, so the Hawklets gained much experience through playing these teams.

The Hawklets won their district by downing Barstow 4-2 and Sedalia Smith-Cotton 1-0 in post season play. Then they traveled to St. Louis for the State Championship as the first team ever from outside the greater St. Louis area to compete in the state finals. However, the Hawklets faced stiff competition and were defeated by St. Louis University High; they finished as the eighth best team in Missouri.

The J.V. Soccer team dominated the city with its aggressive play. The Young Hawklets went undefeated and finished with a record of 10-0-5. The new coach, Mr. Pinne, led the team to its second straight divisional title.

The season opened with ties against SM Northwest and SM North, but the Hawklets got revenge against Northwest by beating the Cougars 1-0 later in the season. The Rock outscored opponents 48-9, an average of 3.2 to 0.6 points per game. The J.V. team also recorded eight shutouts throughout the season.

Sophomore captains Rob Hense, Joe Hodes, and John Hungerford provided leadership for the youngsters, while Hodes led the team in scoring with four goals and seven assists. Sophomore Mark McLiney scored eight goals and had two assists. Outstanding freshmen included J.J. Monttanaro and Roman Ramos, each of whom had four goals and two assists. The J.V. did exceptionally well, especially considering the fact that it consisted entirely of sophomores and frosh.

Varsity Cleans Up

The Varsity Basketball team entered the district tournament this year with high hopes based on a successful season, despite a rough schedule and injuries to key players.

The Hawklets started impressively, taking 13 out of 15, including two first places and a second in tournament play. Some of Rockhurst's best play came in the Hannibal Tournament, where the Hawklets cleaned up on Vandelia-Farber and Kirksville, before handing Bowling Green, number one in Missouri class 3A, its only loss of the season, 71-63, for first. Despite the temporary loss of Mike Teahan, Rochurst played an almost flawless first half and dispensed with Van for the second time to number two Ray-South, 53-55, followed by Rockhurst's only loss at home against the number one ranked Wyandotte, 77-83. Rockhurst ended the season on a strong note, employing the original starting lineup for the first time since the early season, handing back-to-back defeats to number eight Blue Valley and number nine Lincoln at home.

JV Awes Opponents

Rockhurst's Junior Varsity basketball team posted an awesome 14-2 record, including victories over some of the top JV teams in the area. The Hawklets won six of seven by an average spread of 25 points, suffering only a 48-58 loss to Raytown South, acknowledged to be the best area team. Rockhurst lost only one more the rest of the way, defeating such powers as Wyandotte, O'Hara, Columbia Hickman, and Blue Valley. The Hawklets biggest win came against Central at the Field House, 86-43. In their final game, the JV won a stirring victory over Lincoln, 62-60, in overtime.

The Hawlets were led early on by Pat Keller who later moved up to Varsity. With the loss of Keller, the Hawklets turned to sophomores Mark Redmond, Joe Karl, and Tom Scanlon, and juniors Mike Frazier and John Gamble, to lead the way to victory.

Soph/Frosh Dominate

Rockhurst's underclassmen teams dominated area opponents this season, running their composite record to 30-15. All three teams showed great balance and promise.

Coach Bill Munninghoff's sophomores reeled off seven victories in their first 8 games before finishing 12-6. The sophomore Hawklets, led in scoring by six different players throughout the season, lost only one game by more than six points—losing five hard-fought contests against the Shawnee Mission Schools. The sixth loss, a one-pointer to Ray-South in the finals of the Ray-South Tournament, was redeemed by a one-point victory at home. RHS victories included decisions against fierce rivals Meige, Ward, and O'Hara. High-point man for the Hawklets was Robbie Honan, who tallied 30 in the season finale against GV and tacked on two 21-pt. performances. Honan and Geoff Gomerdinger were moved up to J.V. after the sophomore season. Other leaders were Mark Johnson, Gerry Merker, Donald Parson, and Pat Coppinger.

Both freshmen teams completed successful seasons. The frosh won 8 of their last nine to finish 11-7 (five losses against Raytown and Ray-South). Frosh B ended 7-2.

New Coach Brings Winning Season

The Varsity Wrestling team under the direction of new Head Coach Dennis Bullard compiled an impressive 8-21-dual meet record. Coach Bullard was pleased with the team's performance, which was highlighted by a 35-26 win against Shawnee Mission South, a top ten team.

This year's team was led by senior captains Sam Wurster, Richard Poskin, and Mattew Mulhern. Other seniors on varsity included Tony Marino, Donald Poskin, and Phil Anderson. Sam Wurster (19-6) and Tony Marino qualified in the district meet to compete in the regionals.

Juniors who earned Varsity letters were Mike Grosko, Mike Lipari, Matt Wurster, and Andy Oldham.

Sophomores Tom Freeman and Joe Hodes lettered and should provide the team with valuable experience next year.

Coach Hullard is expecting a strong team in the future due to the performance of the freshmen. Jim Paolozzi and John Wiedemaier wrestled varsity. While over forty other freshmen who completed the season. Over seventy wrestlers were on the team this year.

J.V. Shows Great Depth

Mr. Pat McDermott coached the Junior Varsity wrestling team to an impressive 7-2 dual meet record. The JV capitalized on a balanced team with great depth. High points of the season were the matches against Raytown and SM East, in which every wrestler pinned his opponent.

Outstanding performances by Juniors Kurt Muehlbach (12-2), Andy Oldham (8-3), and Mike Novosel (8-2) led the team to its winning season. Other contributing juniors were Rick Oddo, Peter Dunn, Tim Vespa, and Mike Lipari. Sophomores included Joe Hodes, Jason and Chris Goscha, Rick Schlitzer, Mark Cochrane, Herb Vergara, and Mike Murphy.

The freshmen team members consisted of Brian Curry, Jim Paolozzi, Tyler Peters, Tom McKay, Kevin Odrowski, Kevin Rovinette, Rob Richmond, Chris Wedding, Chris Hodes, John Budde, and Tim Mayer.

More than one billion Golden Books have gone into the homes of children of all nations. They are far and away the best-known series of books for young people ever published.
The subjects of Golden Books are chosen to entertain and delight children. Many of them are about the young child's own environment, giving him a feeling of belonging. Others begin to acquaint the child with the lives of people around him and extend his awareness of the world.
Although their gay and colorful appearance does not always immediately show it, a number of Golden Books are packed with information. And behind the amusing stories in many of them is the serious purpose of helping the child prepare for difficult adjustments.
The Golden Books include versions of modern children's classics told for young listeners and, of course, a good share of the beloved fairy and folk tales.
So look closely at the Golden Books you choose for they have many imitators. You will find a listing of some of the books in the Little Golden Library on the reverse of this cover.

Special Thanks

This year, I must say, has been one of experience for the entire yearbook staff. During the past two semesters, we have survived frequent deadlines, not to mention constant minor and major obstacles. Since this is the only opportunity there is to thank those that have helped out, I will start by thanking the entire staff, for they deserve the most credit. Secondly, Doug Juergensen deserves some praise for coming to Mike Dolson's rescue. Also, Frank Maggard needs to be thanked; although he only showed up on the last deadline, the work he did really counted when all the material had to be turned in.

Finally, the following people are to be commended for their enthusiasm: Rusty Beck for printing an innumerable number of pictures; Mike Dolson for hanging in there; Eric Schudy for being there when it counted; Jimmy Taylor for doing excellent work on the Freshman section; and Joe O'Flaherty for generally just helping. Others who should be thanked are Jim Fitzgerald, Tim Thomure, Chris Ottinger, Larry Graham, and Hugh Andrews.
